

REMIX//SAHIL — FIELD GUIDE

An invitation to think across disciplines.

Created for the SahilWho identity remix experience.

1 / WHAT IS A REMIX?

A creative remix combines two existing vocabularies, tools, or questions.

The goal is not randomness alone: it is a new way to notice something.

2 / HOW TO USE THE LAB

Pick Channel A and Channel B. Generate a mutation.

Ask: what can be tested, built or demonstrated?

Open a related project instead of stopping at a catchy concept.

3 / SIX QUESTIONS TO KEEP

What is the underlying human question?

What does each discipline contribute?

Which assumption may be wrong?

Who would find the result meaningful?

What small artifact could show the idea?

What evidence would change your mind?

4 / EXAMPLES

Research x Code: a playful identity-action simulation.

Scent x Writing: a memory exhibition organized by notes.

Philosophy x Music: a radio debate about who gets to define identity.

5 / ETHICAL NOTE

Remix prompts are speculative creative fiction.

They are not medical, psychological or personality assessments.

Cite sources and label evidence versus interpretation in published work.
